

RUSSIANS FIGHT JAPANESE IN MANCHURIA

Nagasaki Is Target As Second Atomic Bomb Is Dropped

The War Today..

End Near For Japs

By DeWITT MacKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

JAPAN'S Day is rapidly drawing to a close.

Russia's entry into the war, coming on top of the advent of the atomic bomb with its awful powers of annihilation, place Japan in a position where she must surrender quickly or suffer destruction. The Oriental mind is inscrutable to the western world, but even so one would expect the Japanese warlords to surrender forthwith if they possess even a modicum of sense.

Moscow's declaration of war represents a masterly psychological coup. First came the atomic bomb on Hiroshima, destroying that great city and, as the Japs themselves say, killing every living thing. There followed the Soviet block-buster in the form of war which today is tearing into both sides of Japan's Manchurian stronghold. And finally we have today's successful atomic bomb attack against the great port of Nagasaki.

There's nothing for Japan to do but surrender—or commit national hara-kiri. Now that we have the facts before us, it is clear that these events are the result of careful and astute planning over a considerable period. The Big Three apparently put the finishing touches on it at Potsdam.

Of course Japan was well on the road to defeat before the atomic bomb was brought into action. It was only a question of how much time it would take to finish the job. The first demonstration of the bomb made it clear that if we used it indiscriminately, we could wipe out Japan in a very short time.

However, there always has been the possibility that the madness of the Japanese war-lords might impel them to try to continue the war on the continent even after Tokyo had surrendered. But Russia's entrance into the war has rendered any such scheme impossible of execution. The sum and substance of the Japanese position is neatly summarized for us by Secretary of State Byrnes:

"There is still time—but little time—for the Japanese to save themselves from the destruction which threatens them."

So far as Russia is concerned, the Japs of course were expecting this development and were ready for it. They have for many weeks been moving troops from southern China northward for the very obvious purpose of getting ready for a possible Red attack on Manchuria.

The Japanese have formidable forces pitted against the enemy. They have in Manchuria their Kwangtung army of some 750,000 men, representing the finest troops they possess. In addition there are, according to the latest figures, about 650,000 more Japs in northern China. It should be remembered, too, that they have concentrated many of their war industries in Manchuria, even moving numerous plants from the Japanese mainland.

Besides the troops on the continent, the Japs have about 1,700,000 in the home islands, perhaps 300,000 more in the islands to the north of Japan proper, and 600,000 in southeast Asia and on the by-passed Pacific islands. None of these, however, are available for the war.

RESULTS OF NEW ATTACK CLAIMED GOOD

City of 225,000 Dotted With Many Vital Military Industries

By MURLIN SPENCER

GUAM, Aug. 9.—The world's most destructive force—the atomic bomb—was used for the second time against Japan today, striking the important Kyushu island city of Nagasaki with observed "good results."

More than one bomb may have been dropped in this second attack and it might have been of a different size than the first one which destroyed 60 per cent of Hiroshima. The carefully worded communiqué said only that the second use of the atomic bomb had occurred, leaving to speculation all other details.

The bomb was dropped at noon Japanese time—about nine hours after Tokyo radio reported Red army troops backed up Russia's declaration of war on Japan by attacking enemy forces in eastern Manchuria both by land and by air, and while four other Japanese cities still burned from round-the-clock B-29 incendiary and demolition attacks.

The Japanese had had time to study the devastation wrought at Hiroshima, where they reported "practically every living thing" was destroyed as the world's first mighty atom bomb wrecked 60 per cent of that city of 343,000 Monday.

Better Military Target

Nagasaki, western Kyushu seaport and railroad terminal with an estimated 225,000 population in its 12 square miles, was a far more important military target.

Gen. Spaatz U. S. Army Strategic Air Force headquarters said Nagasaki, with its houses jam-packed, probably was even more vulnerable to an atom bombing.

Hiroshima was one of the best laid out cities for defense against fire raids, but its extensive, fire- Turn to NAGASAKI, Page 6

Mightiest Of Armies Now Face Japan

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—The mightiest armed forces of all history completely encircled the seared and tottering empire of Japan today, ready to smash it into oblivion if the Japanese do not surrender within a few hours.

Russia's entry into the conflict, reuniting the powers that blotted out Nazi Germany, robs the Tokyo government of its last hope for a holdout stand on the Asiatic continent. It thus shortens the war by many months even if the Japanese choose a fight to the death.

But from the White House to the Capitol all official Washington hopes and expects that this momentous development, together with the atomic bomb campaign, will break the back of enemy resistance at once.

Use of the awful weapon reached the campaign stage today with strategic Nagasaki as its second target.

Hour-Glass Runs Out

An intensified, 24-hour propaganda drive directed at the Japanese people over the heads of their leaders was opened by OWI when President Truman announced the Russian declaration at 3 p. m. yesterday. It had the earmarks, although not the official stamp, of a 24-hour ultimatum.

Secretary of State Byrnes told a news conference:

"There is still time—but little time—for the Japanese to save themselves from the destruction which threatens them."

The atomic blow against Nagasaki could have been intended as a reminder.

Tensely, Washington waited for further developments:

1. A possible Japanese peace move or word of internal turmoil in Nippon which could lead to surrender.

2. Official announcement that the Red armies along the Siberian-Manchurian border had swung into full-scale action. Enemy broadcasts said Soviet troops were attacking on the eastern Manchurian border and that Russian war planes were in action.

President Truman's scheduled broadcast to the nation at 10 o'clock E. W. T. tonight will afford him an opportunity to detail his views on the war situation as well as to report on the Potsdam conference. It was there he made the final American argument for Russian entry into the war.

RED TROOPS ATTACK JAPS AT MIDNIGHT

Offensive Is Launched On Eastern Border After War Declaration

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, Aug. 9.—Soviet Russia turned its mighty armies loose on Emperor Hirohito's Japan at a second after midnight today (5 p. m. Salem time Wednesday).

(The Tokyo radio said Soviet ground forces launched a sudden attack at the eastern Soviet-Manchuria border early this morning. The broadcast, quoting a communiqué of the Japanese Kwangtung army, also said a small number of Soviet aircraft bombed Manchurian territory, but gave no precise location.)

Columns of singing Red army men, fresh from the victory over Hitler's Germany, tramped through the heart of Moscow just 45 minutes after the Soviet radio announced the news to the people.

Crowds poured from buildings and cheered the marching men. But the people were not surprised by the announcement. Aware of Russia's long enmity for the Japanese, they had been prepared for the news for some time.

Jap Ambassador Summoned

Soviet Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov disclosed the dramatic news at a press conference (three and a half hours after he had summoned Japanese Ambassador Natsume Sato to the Kremlin and handed him the declaration, to be effective at midnight, seven hours later.)

Sato was permitted to send his last telegram to Tokyo with the announcement. The ambassador remained at the Japanese embassy in Moscow's residential section last night, with his staff gathered about him. Japanese who were living in Moscow began flocking to the embassy a short time later after Sato received the news. Their return to Japan will be subject to the arrangements for the return of the Soviet staff from Tokyo.

A broadcast Domei dispatch said Russian forces had battered across the eastern frontier of Manchuria at "several points" along a 300-mile extending southward from Hutou to Hunchun. Hutou, just across the Soviet-Manchurian border, is 350 miles east of Harbin, and Hunchun is about 240 miles southeast of that key industrial and communications center, regarded as a Russian objective.

The attack from the west, Tokyo said, was launched in the vicinity of Lupin (Manchouli) in the northwestern elbow of the winding Manchurian border, about 500 air miles northwest of Harbin.

Pincers Attack Made

A Japanese imperial headquarters communiqué said the Russians struck across both the eastern and western frontiers, beginning shortly after midnight. This suggested a vast pincers movement against the crack Kwangtung army, pride of the Japanese army.

TRUMAN EYES RECONVERSION

President Submits Five-Point Plan To Krug, WPB Chieftain

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—President Truman today laid down a five-point plan designed to speed reconversion of industry to peacetime production and recommended the lifting of controls as soon as possible.

The President said in a letter to WPB Chief J. A. Krug that he hopes the WPB staff "will stay on the job" because their work is not yet done.

The War Production board, Mr. Truman said, can and should "play an important role in reconversion."

He asked Krug to take these steps:

1. A vigorous drive to expand production of materials which are in short supply "not only because of military demands but to meet civilian demands as well."
2. A limitation on the manufacture of products which would require materials that are in short supply.
3. A broad and effective control of inventories "to avoid speculative hoarding."
4. Granting of priority assistance "to break bottlenecks which may impede the reconversion process."
5. Allocation of scarce materials for the production of low-priced items "essential to the continued success of the stabilization program."

Campbell and Hochadel are seeking election for the first time as two vacancies will be available with the completion of Beardmore's four-year term and the term of incumbent George Baillie, who is not seeking re-election.

In Leetonia Charles T. Steits, D. P. Grapp and E. Walter Berg filed for two board of education positions. Columbiana's board, with two positions to fill, has Earl H. Newell, Everett H. Warrick and Francis C. Coblentz as candidates.

In the United school district, David P. Furey, Therman Baker, Ernest F. Sanor and Donald H. Mayhew are seeking board of education positions, two to be chosen.

Fairfield township's board, with two positions to fill, has W. A. Morris and Herman Swope as candidates.

The county board of education, two to be chosen, has Edna W. Maxwell, Ben Hittley and George E. Lones with places assured on the non-partisan ballot.

Salem township officials seeking election as trustees are Charles G. Hart, S. A. Koonz and Richard Wilkison.

Independent local tickets have been filed in Leetonia, New Waterford and Washingtonville. Full slates are apparent in all places as nominations were made by petitions.

Non-partisan filings reached 232 at 6:30 p. m. yesterday, representing candidates from 18 townships, 22 school districts and five villages.

Public Jitters Over Atomic Bomb Are Held Unjustified

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—The public jitters now spreading concerning the perils of the atomic bomb are not justified, either by the official facts from Washington or by the scientific records of the discovery.

It is a scientific fact that the energy in the complete explosion of one pound of uranium could blow the Empire State building 20 miles into the air.

It is possible, as unofficially reported, that 11 pounds of uranium are used in the present atomic bomb.

But it also appears certain, from the scientific records up to the time of the blackout, from the actual reported performances of the bomb and from Washington's official description, that not all the uranium explodes.

Scientists started with an explosion which released less than one per cent of uranium's explosive power. It is unlikely that they have done much, if anything, to increase that percentage.

They would not need to increase the percentage to show the effects reported from Japan.

Split In Two

Uranium atoms, it will be remembered, split into two, to produce the atomic explosive power. Splitting in two, a thing that scientists call fission, is entirely different than having the whole atom explode. That single split is all that ever has been reported as happening to uranium atoms.

The world is quite safe until far more than that kind of a split can be attained. The entire atom would have to come apart to make the 20-mile blow-up of the Empire State building with a pound.

Any of the other 91 different kinds of atoms, such as gold, iron, lead, iodine or carbon could cause a comparable destruction, per pound, if they could be made to blow up completely.

But on the evidence to date, scientists have been unable to get a single one of the other atoms even to split, much less blow up completely.

By the scientific records, uranium is the one atom of all the 92 likely even to split. It is the biggest one of all, and it is unstable. As the atoms get smaller, they seem more stable. They are harder to manage. They only give off chips and rays when strong rays hit them.

Progress Will Be Made

Progress will be made both with uranium and other atoms, both for self-protection of America and for the dreams of atomic power. But the progress along those lines, as told by Secretary Stimson, is expected to take many years. Even the progress that brings man the millennium of atomic power, does not mean anything near enough explosive energy to destroy the world.

Another public worry is destroying the atmosphere, and making the face of the earth radioactive, like

FLEET AGAIN BLASTS JAPAN

Carrier Planes Brush Off Jap Opposition To Attack Honshu

GUAM, Aug. 9.—Admiral Halsey's mighty Third fleet attacked Japan anew today with more than 1,300 carrier planes and brushed aside enemy air opposition, the first encounter since it started pounding Nippon's homeland more than a month ago.

A dispatch from Associated Press Correspondent Al Dopking, with the fleet, said the armada's anti-aircraft guns thundered as the Japanese planes appeared and that he saw two shot down. No ship reported damage.

Returned carrier pilots, who started their attacks before dawn against northern Honshu, reported many Japanese planes set afire on the ground, two ships sunk and at least six others damaged.

Kamaishi Shelled

The return of Admiral Halsey's massive fleet to waters off north Honshu—the same sector where it began its "red July" scourge of the enemy fleet, air force and coastal industries—came as Admiral Nimitz pledged Russia the assistance of the navy.

The Tokyo radio reported that in addition to the heavy carrier plane attacks, surface units of the Third fleet were shelling the northeastern Honshu steel city of Kamaishi.

"The attacks are now continuing," Nimitz said, suggesting the same day-long type of raids which last month destroyed or damaged more than 1,000 enemy vessels and more than 1,300 planes.

Al Dopking, aboard a warship of the fleet, said such tactical surprise was achieved that the fleet raiders "may have caught the enemy's planes before they had time to conceal them as they have in the past by putting them in graveyards and the backyards of homes."

Even as the Third fleet steamed contemptuously close to the Japanese coast to resume its poundings of the homeland, only two Japanese planes came near it," Dopking's dispatch said.

"Both these were shot down long before they had a chance to get a glimpse of this navy powerhouse and it is doubtful if its movements were detected, although it probably was the noisiest approach to enemy shores in naval history."

24 DEPART FOR ARMED SERVICES

Twenty-four draftees, slated for induction into military service, left Salem by train at 9:50 a. m. today, representing the August contingent for the Salem draft board.

Lloyd C. Berg of Washingtonville was named leader of the group, which was composed of about 50 per cent men just 18 and the others ranging between ages 20 and 30.

The entire group included:

Lloyd Conrad Berg, Washingtonville.

Archie Leroy Bricker, R. D. 4, Salem.

Carl Lee Blosser, R. D. 1, Columbiana.

Glenn George Couchie, 651 S. Union ave.

Lewis John Catlos, 762 W. Pershing st.

FBI Nabs Suspect In Warren Slaying In '41

WARREN, Aug. 9.—H. T. O'Conner, special agent in charge of the Cleveland Federal Bureau of Investigation office, has announced the arrest of Thomas (Tony) Viola at Tucson, Ariz., on a federal charge of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

O'Conner reported Viola and Charles Monazym, both of Detroit, were indicted in 1944 by the Trumbull county grand jury in connection with the deaths of James Mancini and Felix Monfrino in Warren March 24, 1941.

Monazym is serving a 25-year sentence in Leavenworth federal penitentiary for the robbery of a Detroit bank, the FBI agent said.

COLUMBUS, Aug. 9.—Seven deputy state motor vehicle registrars, who contested the constitutionality of a state law prohibiting licensed insurance agents from serving as deputy registrars, have been refused a temporary order restraining Frank Quinn, state registrar, from revoking their appointments.

The seven, all agents of casualty insurance companies, said Quinn threatened the revocation. Common Pleas Judge Joseph M. Clifford yesterday refused to grant the order on grounds that Judge Charles A. Leach held the law valid in a similar case last October.

The seven are Dwight D. Hatcher of Toledo, H. T. Anderson of New Philadelphia, Paul E. Eckerman of Dayton, A. P. Morris of Salem, Neil D. Schworm of Canton, W. A. Barton of Massillon, and Roxie Laper of Wooster.

Teen-Agers Become Officials For Day, Run City Offices

Following the completion of civic day, when JayTeen officers acted yesterday as Salem city officials, the youth organization will hold amateur night tonight at the club rooms in the Arbaugh building.

A series of variety acts, staged by members of the JayTeen and any other teen-agers interested, will make up the program. Prizes will be awarded the winners later in the week.

Eight JayTeeners yesterday took the places of city officials as a part of the current Youth Welfare week program. Operations went along smoothly.

Munson Thorpe was acting mayor, Dan Smith police chief, James Jensen fire chief, Jerry Shaasteen fire chief, Keith Krepps fire captain, William Scullion service director, Richard Karlis street foreman and Robert Bingham sanitary health officer.

Mayor R. R. Johnson and City Solicitor Lozier Caplan took part in a civic program at the JayTeen last night. Finals in ping-pong and checker tournaments were staged along with judging of displays and hobbies.

Barrett May Realize Huge Profit From Game Invention

Coach, Ben Barrett

Salem High school's football coach, Ben Barrett, has a "fortune brewing" and it all stems from an idle thought he had about his favorite pastime—football!

Now about to go on the open market is a new football game—complete with multi-colored board, darts and colorful first and ten markers—and it all was originated by the Salem coach, who thought up the idea while playing a card baseball game about a year ago.

For some time before that dart baseball game appeared, Barrett had been toying with the idea of producing a game, for indoor use, in which the players tossed pennies upon a board and thereby reconstructed an interesting, competitive game of football.

The dart baseball gave the Quaker mentor a new idea and he made use of it so completely that his idea is now in production in a Cleveland firm and will be on the market at about $4 per game within a month!

Immediate Effects

Nothing in our time has stirred imagination more deeply—and violently—than the possibilities of the atomic bomb.

We are at once hopeful of great good and fearful of great evil from the scientific development that has made this new weapon possible. Unlike ordinary discoveries with bearing on warfare, release of atomic energy is a scientific achievement with far-reaching peacetime potentialities.

For the present, however, the only thing to consider, and indeed the only thing that can be comprehended, is the development's relation to the war with Japan.

These seem to be the probabilities:

Japanese officials will be forced to reconsider their rejection of the surrender ultimatum from Potsdam over the signatures of President Truman, former Prime Minister Churchill and Marshal Stalin. They may be assisted by a renewed invitation to surrender or be destroyed; they now have a new conception of the destruction that awaits Japan.

In the event of Japan's failure to capitulate, the new bombs will be used to the limit. Japan's military installations and key cities can be leveled at a tremendously greater rate than was possible with ordinary bombs—and presumably with less expenditure of effort by the United States.

The United States, first to use the new bomb, and eventually its allies in the Pacific war must accept one-sided responsibility for a new weapon of war. The moral implications are even greater than those involved in Germany's use of robot bombs and rockets.

The United States and Great Britain, possessing the scientific secret of exploding atomic energy, must accept responsibility for its bearing on the postwar problem of international security. It is possible the atomic bomb may have come too late to be anything but an anti-climax in the weapons' race of World War II. But it is destined to be the main reliance in World War III, if international security fails.

On this point there is certain to be earnest controversy. Americans who furnished the money for the development of the momentous discovery will rebel at any suggestion for making it available to any nation which might turn it against them.

Perhaps there is no way to protect the secret, but those who want to share it should earn the right to share it. Civilians never have been able to understand why their militarists should swap information with the militarists of other nations; they will be less able to understand it in connection, because of the enormous sums of money and the unprecedented scientific development entailed.

The United States and Great Britain have found one of the ultimate secrets. Germany was trying to find it. We may be sure the Japanese would like to find it—and everybody else. In deciding what to do about it, now that we have won where they failed, we should not forget what was done with some of the other precious knowledge turned over to potential enemies.

The Stars Say

For Friday, August 10.

THERE are astral indications of a disintegrating, devastating and critically destructive onslaught on the best-laid plans and purposes, mainly due to a reckless, erratic and turbulent state of mind and emotions, which threaten the very foundation of all recent gain and solidification of the objectives. The day may be saved not only by friendly intervention of influential persons or superiors, inspired by a determined effort to curb the temper and restrain wayward impulses, together with a sane attempt to work hard sensibly and with composure in the way of readjustments.

Those whose birthday it is are likely to suffer a year in which devastating defeat, adversity and all constructive work may be demolished by sudden and erratic impulses, unbridled emotions, or other manifestations of rash, tempestuous and destructive tendencies, hectic and tumultuous. Any show of effort toward control of disintegrating situations, with steady and calm composure, patient and balanced plans, might attract support of sympathetic friends or employers. All forms of excess and indulgence should be taken rigorously in hand.

A child born on this day may be disposed to fly into rages or tantrums to its regrettable self-undoing unless it be given early discipline and training.

Ways To Bend 'Little Steel'

WASHINGTON—Prospects for a change in the government's wage policies within the next few weeks lead to some fancy speculation.

That the Little Steel Formula will be openly broken seems doubtful, even though V-E day has come and gone, though 70 congressmen signed a petition to President Truman asking that it be done, though labor leaders have been clamoring for it for over two years.

Instead of being frank about it, however, ways will be found to bend, not break, the Little Steel Formula. The new adjustments are being planned to permit the Office of Economic Stabilization, Office of Price Administration and War Labor Board to save their faces and maintain the fiction that the good old line is being held.

Artful economic dodging of this kind has been going on for some time, though how it kids anyone is hard to see. For instance, the top men tell you the coal wage agreements approved this spring by WLB and OES did not break the Little Steel Formula. True, there was no increase in basic wage rates. But the miners got increased travel-time pay, overtime for all work after 35 hours a week, more money for second and third shifts, and vacations with pay.

What usually isn't mentioned in the same breath is that, as a result of these fringe adjustments, OPA had to allow an increase in the price of coal. So is this holding the line, or isn't it?

The popular theory around Washington now is that certain wage increases can be granted without increasing prices and that some price ceilings can be raised without necessarily increasing wages. They're both good tricks if they can be done. But how?

One proposal is to remove from WLB authority any wage agreements made between employers and employees, provided the new contracts do not call for higher prices of the product. That would ease the problem of the WLB doorstep and out from under the Little Steel Formula ceiling. But where do such situations exist?

Labor leaders have recently become quite alarmed over OPA's new price policies for the reconversion period. The original idea was to have manufacturers start producing consumer goods for sale at 1942 prices. But the way it works out, most manufacturers will be permitted to add allowances for increases in the cost of production which have occurred since 1941.

What all these authorized price increases will add up to, no one can tell. But they are bound to mean some increase in the cost of living.

The device of granting fringe increases, as in the coal cases, has been mentioned. OES Director William H. Davis gave his old pals on WLB authority to do that last April.

At the end of May employers were told they could raise minimum wage rates up to 55 cents an hour without WLB approval. This might be extended by raising the authorized minimum to 65 cents. Davis is known to favor this step for certain low-paid industries.

Removing regional wage differentials might be another means of increasing pay. That would bring southern wage levels up to northern averages, though it wouldn't help the high bracket men in the northern industrial centers where living costs are highest.

Taking a look at an industry's profits might offer another escape. If it were found that any industry could pay higher wages and still make more money than it did in prewar times, pay increases could be wrung out of the earnings.

Finally, there might be an admission that the Bureau of Labor Statistics cost of living index, on which the original Little Steel Formula was based, does not accurately measure the wartime rise in living costs. Whereas BLS now admits to a wartime increase of less than 30 per cent, labor groups contend the actual increase is closer to 45 per cent. If the government stabilization experts ever admit to that variance, the way will be cleared for a lot of pay raising.

Over 30,000 are on the telephone waiting list in Cleveland—and that doesn't include those waiting till the other party gets through talking.

We're all waiting for Uncle Sam to turn back to the doctor the job of telling us what we can and what we can't eat.

All of the reports indicate that coal is going to be mighty short this coming winter—and no fueling!

Brain Energy Causes Epileptic Seizures

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

THE modern view on epilepsy is that it is a disease due to some disturbance of the electrical equilibrium of the brain. It has been possible by means of an electrical device to make tracings of the brain waves.

In epilepsy, according to Doctor Gerald Caplan of England from time to time an excessive amount of energy accumulates in the brain and the convulsion which occurs in epilepsy is the form in which this energy is discharged. In epilepsy, as you may know there is loss of consciousness together with convulsions or twitching and spasm of the muscles. These attacks may come on at any time and may occur at some awkward moment, for example, when a person is driving a car or working with a machine, and in such cases there may be some danger of injury.

Cause Unknown

The exact cause of epilepsy is not known. Various forms of treatment have been employed including rest, freedom insofar as possible from physical and mental strain, and the use of drugs such as phenobarbital and dilantin.

Doctor Caplan suggests the idea of replacing these convulsions which may come on at any time, by electrically-induced convulsions which can be brought on when desired. This form of treatment, he does not believe should replace the methods carried out at present but might well be employed in addition to them.

He has tried the treatment on fifteen men who have been under treatment for periods ranging from three to nine months. The patients chosen were those having convulsions two or three times a month who were under treatment with the drugs mentioned and who were in generally good physical condition. The convulsions were induced before breakfast either once or twice a week.

The convulsion produced lasts only a few moments, then is followed by a short period of unconsciousness. Finally there may be a period of five to thirty minutes when the patient is somewhat confused mentally.

Of the fifteen patients treated in eleven instances the number of epileptic attacks was considerably reduced. In seven patients also who were showing signs of mental disturbances, these conditions also were benefited. No complications in any way alarming were noted. In a few of the patients there was an increase in the frequency of attacks following the electrical treatment, but this did not last longer than the first month and then was followed by a reduction in the number of attacks. In some cases it was necessary to use the electrical treatment only once a week, since more frequent employment produced some mental confusion.

It would appear that this type of treatment may be a valuable aid in making the lives of persons with epilepsy more livable.

Pottery Industry's Past Won't Let It Plan For the Future, It Appears

(By Associated Press)
EAST LIVERPOOL, Aug. 9.—The U. S. pottery industry, it seems, has such a persistent past it can't start planning for the future.
With a backlog of two years' unfilled orders, a draft-drawn manpower supply and a shortage of too many important items, all pressing for immediate solution, the industry's headquarters has been unable to give serious attention to post-war planning.
Biggest post-war worry! The expected resurgence of foreign competitive ware.
With all its old, war-aggravated troubles, plus this new big one, "the long range outlook is exceedingly poor. We're not post-war planning until we can see a little more of the future," says Joseph M. Wells, president of the U. S. Pottery Association.

Some of the old troubles:
The 45 firms employing 15,000 men and women in 10 states are producing at only 80 per cent of capacity.
The demand is four times greater than output, according to Wells.
Struggle Along
The $50,000,000 worth of plants must struggle along with used and re-used cartons, barrels, casks and other shipping containers—some couldn't safely hold another dish—and the situation grows worse.
Lead and tin ingredients and coloring materials are scarce. Little or no plant expansion is contemplated, except for necessary replacement of obsolete factories or kilns.

From the war viewpoint, the industry has been non-essential since the beginning except for three districts plants furnishing the armed forces with tableware.
A ceramic field mine never reached the contract stage and only one small local plant is making insulation sections for radio and radar.
More old troubles: Higher-paying war jobs have lured skilled workers away. Some 5,000 are in the service, deaths and retirement have taken many older folk who spent their lives in the trade. Women now total 45 per cent of the total employed, instead of their pre-war 33 per cent.
The up-and-coming worry: Gath-

Men, Women! Old at 40, 50, 60! Want Pep? Want to Feel Years Younger?

Do you blame exhausted, worn-out feeling on age? Thousands swear at what a little peping up with Oxyres has done. Contains tonic many need at 40, 50, 60. For body old swing because low in iron; also supplies vitamin B<sub>1</sub>, calcium, phosphorus, 35c. Indispensable for new pep, younger feeling, this very day. For sale at all drug stores everywhere—in Salem at J. H. Lease Drug.

ering sentiment for expanded reciprocal trade treaties means big headaches for the pottery people.
Fight Foreign Imports
They're used to fighting foreign competition, though. They backed the "made in America" move in 1937, they plugged for protective tariffs to care for the U. S. ceramic industry—and they hated the Japs long before the rest of the nation.
Nearly 40 per cent of all the dishes bought here before the war was foreign-made—and 80 per cent of that came from Japan.
In 1936, the pottery industry beat the rest of the world to a "don't Buy Japanese" boycott and put the torch to a symbolic pile of thousands of dollars worth of Jap goods on one of the East Liverpool's highest hills.

During the quiet little U. S. V. Japan pottery war, the Japs established the town of USA, so they could stamp their ware "made in USA," a trick notable only for its flop.
In addition to the Japs, whom pottery men expect back in the field two years after the war, the industry is already buzzing with rumors that:
France is preparing to re-open war-blasted potteries for the American market.
Great Britain, which James M.

Duffy, president of the big pottery workers' union, says never stopped sending dinnerware to the U. S. also will step up exports substantially.
Italian ware already is being produced for sale here.
Czechoslovakia is expected to re-enter competition.
So officials of USPA and the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters say these long lists of problems still crying for solution are why post-war planning is nil in the pottery capital.
Opportunities to buy to advantage are found daily in The News classified advertising columns.

Chairman OF THE RECEPTION COMMITTEE . . .

The magic word "home" is jamming long distance lines with happy calls of reunion from the thousands of G. I.s returning from weary months of combat. That first call to the folks back home is mighty important to a homesick boy or girl, especially those who will have only 30 days before entering the fight in the Pacific.

Some of these calls may not be completed unless we all co-operate to give our returning heroes a break. You can help by doing two things.

1. Make only urgent long distance calls in the next few months when circuits will be jammed with service men's calls home.
2. Be brief. When others are waiting, the operator will remind you by saying: "Please limit your call to five minutes."

Blueberries and huckleberries which are often confused are similar in appearance and use. The usual distinction is that the blueberry is tame and the huckleberry wild.

Fliers, Brothers, Lost In Action In Similar Crash

By JAMES LINDSLEY

WITH HALSEY'S THIRD FLEET, Off Japan, July 17—(Delayed)—It's almost carbon copy, the way the navy's two flying Crows in action—brothers were lost in action—missing the record says.

Each was flying a Hellcat fighter on his dark day, months apart.

Each plane before the creepy No. 13.

Each was winging through fog. Each was hit by another plane in mid-air.

The locale was different. Lt. Cmdr. Richard G. Crommelin was lost July 14 on a strike at Hokkaido, Japan. The older brother, Lt. Cmdr. Charles G. Crommelin, was lost off Okinawa.

Richard, 28, an Annapolis graduate of 1938, was leading a plane group against rail and shipping at Hokkaido. He was flying at between 300 and 500 feet over water and through fog. Visibility was practically zero when the group attempted to execute a turn.

Another plane swung under Richard's wing, striking the tail section of his plane. He pulled his plane up through the fog, trying for altitude to bail out. But the ship stalled and plunged to the water. No trace was found. The other plane got home.

The older brother, Charles, who was in the academy's class of 1931, was seen anonymously in the film "The Fighting Lady." It was he who, wounded by flak, maneuvered a badly damaged plane onto the deck and crawled bleeding from the cockpit on a dramatic sequence. They are the sons of John G. Crommelin, Wetumpka, Ala.

Capt. Treat, Former Salem Boy, Veteran Of 76 Air Missions

Capt. Mark Treat, son of M. E. Treat of Cuyahoga Falls, former Salem druggist, is a veteran of 76 missions as a B-26 pilot in the Pacific and is now stationed at Lowry field, Denver, Colo., where he is assistant operations officer.

On his first mission he and other American pilots assisted in destroying a huge Japanese naval task force in the battle of Midway in June, 1942.

"Four of our planes went in on a torpedo attack," Treat said, "and I headed my Marauder for a big Jap aircraft carrier, which was twisting and turning to get away from us. We got a direct hit on that baby and that was one thrill I will never forget."

Capt. Treat went to the Fiji Islands and Guadalcanal in November, 1942. Again facing overwhelming odds his squadron attacked a big Jap convoy of 27 troop-laden transports escorted by a powerful task force and many aircraft.

The former Salem lad maneuvered his Marauder in a position to score a direct hit on a 14,000-ton troop transport.

"It was one of those do-or-die cases," said Capt. Treat, "and it was a job that couldn't fail if we were to hold Guadalcanal. When I looked down at all those ships coming I thought it was the entire Japanese navy."

The Zeros kept trying to break us up, but we were hell-bent on sending those warships to the bottom. We had to use every trick in the book to beat them and when our victory was over we were a bunch of mighty proud boys."

Flak often tore holes in the captain's plane, but none of the crew was hurt.

MAN CALLS IN EXPERTS TO TALK ABOUT NEW BOMB

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—President Truman called in top military and scientific advisers today to discuss the atomic bomb whose terrific destructive effect twice has been felt by Japan.

Secretary of War Stimson cancelled a news conference to attend the White House meeting. He took with him Maj. Gen. Leslie Groves, who supervised the secret work which harnessed for war purposes the atom's terrific energy. Groves was to have attended Stimson's news conference today.

Secretary of State Byrnes, who sat beside Mr. Truman when the President announced Russia's declaration of war on Japan yesterday, came across the street to join the meeting.

Others present included scientists who played a leading part in developing the revolutionary weapon. They were:

Dr. Vannevar Bush, director of the office of Scientific research and development, and Dr. James Conant, president of Harvard university.

George L. Harrison, one-time president of the New York Federal Reserve bank who also contributed to the vast engineering work involved, completed the group.

live radium, so that people who stay around a bombed area will die slowly of X-ray burns, or more quickly of neutron burns, which are highly lethal.

It is a fact that a huge explosion of energy creates a little bit of this artificial radium. But that is nothing to worry about. Because every person on the face of the earth is constantly under the fire of radium rays. It comes naturally from the earth, the air, and particularly from the walls of great buildings.

A Geiger counter, the instrument that clicks each time a radium ray hits it, will chatter nearly all the time, most anywhere. But those rays do no harm. Perhaps because human beings bodies over countless eons have become hardened to this natural bombardment. More likely the reason for immunity is the fact that it takes a great volume of radium rays to do any harm.

Prospects are most unlikely that an atomic bomb will cause a dangerous increase in radium and like rays from the earth. These artificially-caused rays, moreover, do not last long, most of them stopping after a few hours or a few days.

They seldom are harmful anyhow if you are 10 feet away from the particle giving off the rays.

Today's jitter comes not from actual facts but from the unknown. It is not unknown that atomic explosions can destroy everything, even the greatest stars. But how to make such an explosion is just as unknown today as ever.

NAGASAKI

breaks and three streams flowing through or near the city failed to save it. Damage and death extending outside the city limits—damage greater than had been caused by 1,000 tons of incendiary and demolition bombs dropped on other Japanese cities.

Nagasaki will give observers another opportunity to study the mighty atom's effectiveness against a large city. Nagasaki virtually was untouched by American might, although it was attacked nearly a year ago by China-based B-29s and was hit heavily on successive days, last July 31 and Aug. 1, by Okinawa-based bombers and fighters of the Far East air force.

Good Results Reported
Nagasaki contained three Mitsubishi plants—ordnance, a steel and arms works, and an electric manufacturing company. It nestled among rugged hills and its 12 square miles occupied a site similar to an amphitheater, reaching out from reclaimed land along the waterfront. Trench-like growths branched into narrow valleys of the surrounding hills.

Crewmen who dropped the atom bomb on Nagasaki immediately flashed "good results" via radio to Spaatz' headquarters. The general said no further details would be available until the mission returned. His communique did not say whether only one bomb was dropped, or only one plane went over the target.

Nagasaki was vitally important for the shipment of military supplies and embarkation of troops to Japan's operation in China, Formosa, Southeast Asia and the Southwest Pacific. Both the navy and merchant fleets took advantage of its major shipbuilding and repair facilities.

Its 12 square miles included the industrial suburbs of Inase and Akunoura on the west side of the harbor, and Urakami.
Earlier Spaatz had reported that 400 Superforts carrying 2,300 tons of incendiaries and demolition bombs had achieved excellent results in attacking four other major targets yesterday and early today.

Three Superforts were lost. Additionally, 78 Mustangs and Thunderbolts from two struck four airfields and other targets in the Osaka area yesterday.

Widespread fires raged in the industrial areas of Fukuyama, 42 miles northeast of Kure, after 92 Superforts spilled more than 500 tons of incendiaries there. Anti-aircraft fire was meager and there was no fighter interception.

against Russia on the mainland. With Russia in the war, Japan now is surrounded, creating a position of which Gen. McArthur says: "This will make possible a great pincer movement which cannot fail to end in the destruction of the enemy."

There is the even brighter view that Tokyo will make a quick surrender. And one wonders whether it will be tendered to all the Allies or to Russia.

OBITUARY

participate in Ben's game. The title of the new product is "Touchdown" and the offices for Touchdown Co. are located at Barrett's home, 678 Ohio ave.

A New York promotional concern has contracted with Barrett to handle the nation-wide sale of the game and as soon as the Office of Price Administration okays the ceiling price the game will be on the market. Expectations are that 100,000 games will be sold by Christmas.

In detail the game is a large board about one yard long and 27 inches wide, trimmed with the pennants of the nation's leading colleges. On various circles are squares over the board are an assortment of gains, losses, field goals, punts, etc. Football players adorn the board in a variety of action poses.

Players choose up sides and stand back 12 feet to toss the darts at the targets, shooting for the gain or kick, etc., they desire to make. Four darts equal a turn, unless you gain your ten yards and are entitled to a new first down.

Ready For Fall Play
The prize to the board is, naturally, for the very center of the board, where a thin strip of white bears the letters "Touchdown" and when you hit there you're six points to the good.

Local players, who have been experimenting with the game for more than six months, are enthusiastic about its possibilities and Barrett found the New York firm in a similar frame of mind about the game.

His efforts have culminated into an attractive product and all that remains now is for the public to take it up like some Salemites have already done.

Barrett, not so optimistic about the "fortune brewing" is seriously interested in the outcome of his newest past-time, but is still vitally concerned about the football eleven to represent Salem High this fall.

There are 106 oil fields in Wyoming.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys
If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.
The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.
If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Salem A. C. Has Easy Time With Hanoverton Pirates Here

Red Allison's Two-Hitter Makes Things Simple For More Experienced Locals

Looking definitely superior to a young Hanoverton Pirate outfit, the Salem Athletics chalked up their second win in a row 8-3 at Centennial park last night as Pitcher Red Allison turned in a two-hit, seven-inning performance.

Victors over the Ravenna Arsenal last Sunday in a thrilling 10-inning fray, the Athletics had things easy here yesterday. Hanoverton, manned by youngsters in every position, failed to give the field performance of past Athletic rivals.

Steve Cibula virtually assured the victory in the third inning when he swung late on an outside pitch and laid it far down the right field line for a home run with Mattie Joe Hrovatic and Nevin Halverstadt on the sacks. The three runs made it 5-2 and from then on the sailing was easy.

Salem had previously scored two runs in the same frame on a single by Gordy Scullion after a double by Batty Morrison. Dean Myers, losing pitcher, had passed Hrovatic and Halverstadt was on by virtue of an error.

Miss On Put-out
The only two Pirate tallies came on a double by First Sacker Louder and Don Manfull were safe on first and second when a double play, Morrison to Scullion to Halverstadt, failed to click.

Leatherberry's hit was the first and another single by Manfull in the fifth brought the total to two, where it stayed.

Allison's job was creditable, although he walked four men. He fanned nine.

Myers walked two, fanned nine and allowed seven hits and five runs in his show on the mound. Relieved in the third frame by Ben Hillard, things settled down somewhat. Hillard passed one, allowed a single hit and gave up three runs, by virtue of two errors, a hit by pitched ball and the lone single.

The Salem club travels Sunday, facing the Ravenna team once again on the Craig Beach park diamond in connection with the arsenal employees' picnic there.

Sponsor Scott Chisholm expects to book them in Salem again next Wednesday and Sunday.

Sport Chatter

By CHARLES DUNKLEY

(Pinch Hitting for Hugh Fullerton)

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—Make room for another load aboard the Chicago Cubs' bandwagon.

First to climb on was Jimmy Dykes, manager of Chicago's White Sox. . . Dykes isn't sure yet, but the Cubs, he thinks, are a cinch in the National league. . . Even that shrewdster, Deacon Will McKechnie, pilot of Cincinnati's Reds, has switched to the Cubs after first picking the Cardinals.

Actually, the Reds can claim some credit for shoving Chicago to the top. The Cubs have beaten them, 17 games to 1, this season, while the Reds won seven out of 15 from the Cards to date.

SOUTHWORTH DISSENTS

Billy Southworth, sharp, little manager of the defending World Champion Cardinals, isn't so sure about all this hoopla concerning the Galloping Cubs. . . Southworth believes the National league championship will be decided in the 12 remaining games between the Cubs and Cards.

CHANDLER SEES SERIES

Senator A. B. Chandler, commissioner of baseball, is positive a world's series will be played despite silence of the O. D. T. on the subject. . . The winner, he says, has been asked officially by Naval Secretary Forrestal to visit the fighters in the Pacific and play their All-Star team.

WRITE YOUR OWN TICKET

Horse players at Chicago's Washington park are strictly on their own in trying to figure winners since the discontinuance of the track handicapper's selections on the official program. Benjamin Lindheimer, executive director of the track, decided it wasn't logical for a track to publish its official idea of what horse would win and what horses figured to be second and third.

Titan Hanover Wins Large Purse In Corn Tassel Derby

By ORLO ROBERTSON

GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 9.—The three-year-old trotting championship, labelled months ago for delivery to Titan Hanover, today is in possession of that little bay colt that E. Roland Harriman and Major Elbridge T. Gerry took out of the yearling sales two years ago for $5,000.

Titan Hanover, a son of Colonel Chuck foaled on Lawrence Sheppard's Hanover, Pa., shoe farm, raised any doubt as to his right to the title yesterday when he won the $51,046.96 Hambletonian from 18 rivals—the largest field in the history of the Corn Tassel derby.

The champion had to be good to win the first heat since he scored from the second tier of the unwieldy field. But under the expert guidance of 42-year old Harry Pownall he bounded into fourth place inside of the first eighth of a mile, trailed past the half-mile post and then swung into command to win in 2:04½.

Takes Pole Position

With the advantage of the pole position in the second brush, Pownall took the smooth-striding horse to the front and never was headed as he trotted the mile in 2:04. Axonite, owned by Octave Blake of Plainfield, N. J., wound up second in the first heat, beaten a length, and Lieut. Col. Dunbar Bostwick's Kimberly Hanover took over the runner-up spot in the second, three lengths back.

The crowd of 14,288 had no chance to gain anything through Titan's victory as he was barred from the wagering in view of a career that includes a world record of two minutes flat for two-year olds and unbeaten performances in 10 previous starts.

But it was worth $27,608.33 to Harriman, New York financier and an important figure in the trotting and pacing world, and to Gerry, a high ranking polo player before the war. Major Gerry is stationed in Germany with the Ninth Air force.

golf tourney if the field were smaller. . . Nelson claims the 200 entries tramping the greens in the three-day meet slows the putting. . . "There should be 50 pros, 10 women stars and 10 top-notch amateurs," he suggests. "It's strictly a spectator show, anyhow, and anybody who shoots over 80 only has his caddy watching him."

TOURNAMENTS GET BIG PLAY AT CLAM BAKE WEDNESDAY

Vitullio, Hubbard Pros, Has 72 As Amateur Green Shoots a 73

With more than 100 golfers enjoying the 13th annual Salem Golf club clam bake, 80 took part yesterday in the various tournaments sponsored on the "day of days" at the local club.

Joe Vitullio, Hubbard Country club professional, chalked up the gross low for the day among the "paid men" with a two-above-par 72 for the 18-hole stretch. Lowest gross posted by an amateur was Cliff Greenstein's 73.

Harry Driscoll, F. W. Fairbanks, William Marunik, Paul Mansfield, Pat Bolen, W. Henderson, T. F. Shaffer, A. E. Fullerton, Rudy Schuster, Bruce Steele, Joe Waechter, Ned Massa, August Sprenger, Richard Lawrence, Lozier Caplan, Art Haessly, Mike Ryan, Ed Walker, W. J. Powell, Jim Hynd and Gus Karako were the winners of the blind bogey tourney.

Specials Posted

The nets in that event were 77, 79 and 75.

William Metz won the barrel event, driving 290 yards through a barrel on the No. 9 tee.

In another special event six men hit a circle on No. 6 green to win places. The winners, Gene Sommers, Gus Karako, J. P. Connors, Metz, Art Lind and Walter Hartsock.

Eenie, Meenie, Minee, Mo! Who's Next Manager To Go? Coleman Made It 3 In Row

"AH" HE BEAMED "I AM GLAD YOU HAVE COME."

By AL VERMEER

NEW YORK—Alas, this is a ghastly season for baseball managers!

First it was Freddie Fitzsimmons who fled the Phillies before they drove him to battering his head on the clubhouse walls.

Next came Joe McCarthy, whose ulcers rebelled against the weird antics of the Yankees.

And the third was Bob Coleman, who always prided himself on his rugged nature, then found he could not stand the giddy plunge of the Braves.

There is no telling how many more managers will scamper for the safety of the hills before the year is ended. Already poor Mel Ott has been ordered by physicians to go to bed early and let someone else play right field for the Giants.

Reports claim Frankie Frisch chewed up half the bats in the Pittsburgh batpile. Bill McKechnie, having shattered all records for long life among Cincinnati managers, listens to the wolves howl at the Reds' failure to muster a big inning.

Only Connie Mack remains calm.

Questions and Answers On Problems of the Servicemen

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8. — Here are some general questions from GIs and their relatives:

Q—My husband will soon be 42 years old. Does the new Navy release formula change the old regulations about getting out when you get to be 42?

A—Enlisted personnel 42 years of age or older will continue to be eligible for discharge under conditions heretofore in effect.

Q—I am soon going to be discharged from the Army. I want to buy a farm. They tell me there is a way to borrow enough money to pay for it all from the Veterans administration. Is this true? Where can I borrow enough to buy a farm?

A—All Veterans administration can do is guarantee a loan for the purchase of a farm. If you write to the Farm Security administration, however, officials there will tell you about other provisions of government loans to buy farms, which are more liberal than those of the GI Bill of Rights.

Q—If a veteran is receiving an increased pension, or a subsistence allowance for educational purposes, is he eligible to receive readjustment allowances?

A—No.

Q—Can a veteran be disqualified from receiving readjustment allowances.

A—Yes. A veteran may be disqualified from receiving readjustment allowances for failure to comply with the law and regulations applying in his state of residence.

Q—I am not satisfied with the decision on my claim for allowances. Is there anything I can do?

A—You are entitled to an appeal.

Coleman Leaves

Now maybe you are not deeply touched by this most recent affair—the plight of Bob Coleman—but you would be if you had stopped off this spring at Georgetown university where the Braves were training.

It was a bright March day when we arrived and Mr. Coleman, a fatherly man of 54, scurried down the steps to help with our bags.

"Ah," he beamed, "I am glad you have come to look at our ball club."

That seemed a little strange. Twenty-eight weary years have rolled by since the Braves were a flag contender and usually Boston managers are not eager to show off their teams until the schedule flushes them into view.

But Mr. Coleman chuckled merrily and explained how all the past and the future fairly teemed with brightness. When we inquired what he thought of the opposition he explained that the Cardinals, Cubs and Pirates were certain for the first division.

Who Else?

"And who else?" we asked. His brows went up in surprise. "Why us, of course. The Braves!"

And he went to great lengths to tell why this wonderful thing was going to happen, putting it so pretty that you'd almost have been tempted to believe him.

But four months later the Braves were plunging deep into the second division and Bob Coleman, driven to despair and his happy dreams shattered, chuckled the whole messy business. Wherever the club finishes it will finish without him.

Really, it is very sad.

ODT RULES FORCE POSTPONEMENT OF LOCAL DOG SHOW

A. H. Vaughan, president of the Columbiana County Kennel club, announced today that recent developments had forced the postponement of the all-breeds dog show planned here Sunday, Aug. 26.

The club had previously been informed by the Office of Defense Transportation that a permit would be granted for the show, but, as a result of developments of the war in the Pacific, Frank Perrin, chairman of the War Committee on Conventions, has requested that the show be deferred or canceled.

Perrin pointed out that O. D. T. permits had been granted only to those cities such as Cleveland, Chicago and Pittsburgh where a successful show could be held with the entries drawn from these cities and their suburbs.

Insufficient entries could not be received from Salem and its suburbs to conduct a successful show.

No permit from the O. D. T. is necessary to hold a "sanctioned match" conducted under the rules of the American Kennel club, but no championship points would be awarded by the American Kennel club in such a match, Vaughan explained, and the committee feels that the generous premium list should not be dissipated on any show other than an all-breeds show with championship points awarded.

Army Is Teaching Democracy to Boys In Germany Today

By JAMES M. LONG

COMPIEGNE, France — Seven thousand German boys ranging from 13 to 18 years of age tip their hats to every American who enters or passes their big barbed wire pen here at Compiegne forest plateau.

It's the hats, the solemn tipping and the motley of GI khaki and German field gray clothing that sets the keynote. These boys are the Hitler trained youth, youngest of Wehrmacht prisoners.

Here is being conducted the largest scale program of experimental educational de-Nazification of German youth yet to be attempted in prison camps in the European Theater of Operations.

No one knows how or whether it will work, but Capt. A. Camjohnson of Moscow, Idaho, commandant of the camp of over 40,000 Germans, says:

Underway 3 Months

"We've got them here and it looks like we'd have them for a while. We might as well see what we can do with them. We're nothing to lose and whatever we gain is all profit."

The assorted caps and clothing—the hat tipping, too—are part of the program officers at the camp are working out as they go along. The experiment has been under way about three months.

"These kids have been nursed on regimentation, uniforms, marching and militarism," one officer explained. "We've just created conditions where that stuff doesn't fit in."

No one told the boys they were going to be demilitarized and de-Nazified. But when they were issued American GI clothing, they didn't get full sets. One, for example, had to wear a GI shirt and pants with his old green Volkstrunk jacket. Another was given a GI jacket and shirt but has to wear his German infantry trousers.

For hats the boys just had to improvise; some wore what they had, some made their own out of socks or other material at hand. The result was variety. They had to stop saluting, and hat tipping was the result.

"It was their own idea," Johnson explained. "They just started it and it spread over the camp. We let them do it because it is a proper civilian salutation."

Urge More Training For Village Officers

COLUMBUS, Aug. 9—The Ohio State Marshals' association recommended today more instruction be given to village police officers.

Its members adopted a resolution suggesting that attendance at established police schools, such as those operated by the FBI, be increased, or that the association conduct its own schools.

The association, holding its annual convention, re-elected all officers. They are: President, Police Chief Leigh Latta of Glendale; treasurer, Police Chief John Ballbach of Silverton, and first vice president, Police Chief W. J. Busch of Moreland Hills, Cuyahoga county.

Herb's Got a Great Little Wife

Everybody's talking about what a grand job Herb Helm is doing at the war plant. Not just one shift, but two a day—to help build the war materials our men need.

Good for Herb! But I'd like to say a word for Mary, Herb's wife. She runs the house, cooks the meals, takes care of the children, and works on salvage drives and bundles for the Red Cross. Believe me, that's tiring work for any woman!

Yet when Herb comes home—too tired to talk or watch where he drops his ashes, maybe—she makes allowances, keeps smiling, brings him a restful glass of beer, and makes enough conversation for them both. Next morning, Herb goes to work refreshed and cheerful.

From where I sit, women like Mary Helm are doing a great war job themselves... being tolerant and kind to husbands who are working under a heavy wartime strain. Bully for them!
